Pet Reptiles!

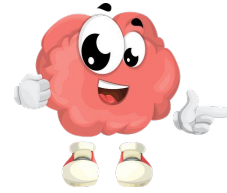

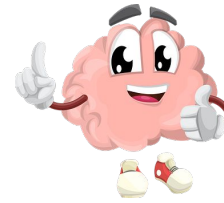

Many people have reptiles as pets. Snakes, turtles, and lizards are all reptiles. If you want to get a reptile for a pet, there are some things to think about first.

Reptiles are not soft, like cats and dogs. Reptiles have scales instead of fur. They need special food, like insects or plants. Some reptile owners have to feed their pets live bugs!

Reptiles also need a special place to live. It needs to have the right amount of sunlight and heat. Reptiles need the right space and care to be happy and healthy.

Reptiles are very different from cats and dogs. Reptile owners cannot take their pets on walks or feel their soft fur. Reptiles can still be great pets for the right person!

Unusual Pets!

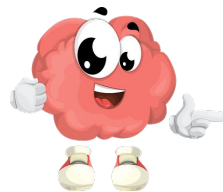

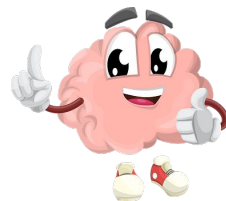

Many people like to have unusual pets. It can be fun and exciting to have a pet that is not common. Unusual pets need special care, so it is important to understand what they need.

Parrots can be great pets. Parrots are colorful birds that can talk and copy sounds! Parrots need a big cage to live in and toys to play with. They eat seeds, fruits, and vegetables. Parrots need a lot of time and care, but it can be fun to teach them tricks.

Tarantulas are easy pets to take care of. Tarantulas are hairy spiders that live in tanks. They eat small bugs like crickets or worms. Tarantulas are quiet pets, but some people find them scary!

Hedgehogs are small animals covered in spines. They eat special hedgehog food along with insects and fruit. They sleep during the day and are awake at night. Hedgehogs are cute pets, but be careful not to get pricked by their spikes!
