Reading

Fish Aquariums!

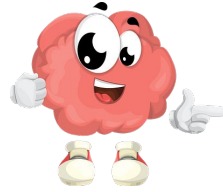

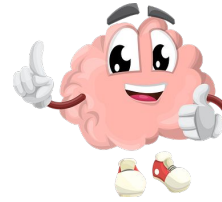

Many people with fish keep their pets in aquariums. Aquariums have strong, clear walls that are usually made of glass. They come in many different sizes and shapes.

Aquariums are not the same as fish bowls. Aquariums have a filter that keeps the water clean. They also have a heater that keeps the water warm. This keeps the fish healthy and well cared for. People have pet fish from all over the world. They come in many different shapes, sizes, and colors.

Some pet owners add things to their aquariums, like rocks, plants, and wood. These make the aquarium look more like a real underwater world. Aquariums are great for keeping fish and are beautiful to look at!

Reptile Terrariums!

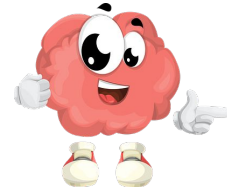

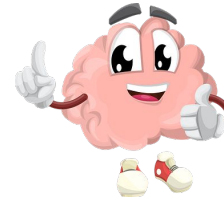

Reptile terrariums are homes for pets like lizards, snakes, and turtles. They come in different sizes and shapes for different kinds of reptiles. Terrariums are made so reptiles can be comfortable and healthy.

Reptile terrariums usually have a floor of sand, soil, or even carpet. Terrariums usually have heating lamps or heating pads to keep the reptiles warm. Pet owners will usually put rocks, branches, and water bowls in their terrariums. Reptiles like to have hiding spots!

It is important to take good care of reptile terrariums. Reptiles need a clean place to live with food and water. Terrariums are a great home for pets and a fun activity for pet owners.
